STATEMENT IN FAVOUR

of a culturally and religiously diverse Lake Macquarie City.

We, as the elected Council and prominent citizens and representatives of organisations in Lake Macquarie, affirm our commitment to: maintaining our City as a culturally diverse, inclusive community, united by a commitment to democratic principles and fairness, and the right of all our residents to enjoy equal rights and be treated with equal respect.

We are committed to maintaining Lake Macquarie as a multicultural City. Lake Macquarie's inter-cultural and multi-faith diversity is an integral part of our City's identity and is intrinsic to our City's vitality.

Multiculturalism is in the interest of all of our citizens and expresses our sense of fairness and inclusion. It enhances respect and support for cultural, religious and linguistic expression. New arrivals to Lake Macquarie, including our most recent arrivals, have brought much-needed skills, labour and ideas to our City.

Our multicultural community offers us much of the energy, ingenuity and enterprise that make Lake Macquarie what it is today. Those who choose to call Lake Macquarie home have the right to practise and share their religious and cultural traditions free from discrimination. Citizens from all backgrounds should be given every opportunity to participate in and contribute to the social, economic and cultural life of Lake Macquarie.

We are committed to a just, inclusive and socially cohesive City where everyone can participate in the opportunities that Lake Macquarie offers and where services are responsive to the needs of residents from all backgrounds.

We will act to promote understanding and acceptance of people of all backgrounds and faiths. We reject all expressions of religious or racial intolerance and discrimination.

Adopted by Council on 25 May 2015.

MESSAGE FROM MAYOR ADAM SHULTZ

It is with great pride that we issue the third iteration of Lake Macquarie's Multicultural Plan, our city's renewed commitment to fostering a vibrant, inclusive, and culturally rich community.

Lake Macquarie is home to people from all walks of life. With 15% of our residents born overseas, 5.5% identifying as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander, and more than 11,300 speaking a language other than English, our city is a living mosaic of cultures, traditions, and stories. This diversity is not just celebrated; it is intrinsic to our city's vitality.

Between 2019 and 2024, overseas migration contributed to 25% of Lake Macquarie's population growth, and we proudly stand as the third most popular regional Local Government Area in NSW for permanent migrants. We've welcomed more than 1,800 new Australian citizens in the past four years - a testament to the growing appeal of Lake Macquarie as a place to call home.

As Mayor, one of my most meaningful responsibilities is presiding over citizenship ceremonies. These occasions offer a rare and moving glimpse into the personal journeys of our newest citizens, individuals and families who have chosen to make Lake Macquarie their home. Choosing to become a citizen is a bold and meaningful step and serves as a powerful reminder of the role we all play in fostering a welcoming and inclusive community.

I understand that the notion of 'home' is complex. For many, there will always be another place that holds deep emotional ties. But here in Lake Macquarie, we are committed to ensuring that this new home feels safe, welcoming, and full of opportunity.

This Multicultural Plan outlines our strategic direction for the next four years, aligning with our Community Strategic Plan and reinforcing our dedication to increasing cultural safety for all. We remain steadfast in our mission to be a city where cultural, religious, and linguistic diversity is not only respected but embraced.

To every new citizen, and to every resident who contributes to the rich tapestry of Lake Macquarie, I thank you. You make our city stronger through diverse perspectives, more resilient through shared values, and more united in our shared future.

Adam Shultz

Lake Macquarie Mayor

ABOUT THIS PLAN

The Multicultural Lake Mac Plan is a strategic document that aims to build on previous plans, outline commitments for the next four years and celebrate our cities growing cultural, religious and linguistically diverse communities.

The plan acknowledges the complex and vibrant intersections between multiculturalism, local opportunities for growth and celebration, as well as challenges facing our community. The plan does this through strategic links to the Lake Macquarie City Community Strategic Plan (CSP) and other visions at the international, national, and state levels of policy and strategic planning.

The plan has been developed alongside a wide range of local stakeholders in Lake Macquarie including community service representatives, community advocates, local community leaders, residents and visitors of Lake Macquarie and Council staff.

In it's third iteration, the Multicultural Lake Mac Plan 2025-2029 focuses on sustainable community capacity building actions that will continue our work in supporting our local community from culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse backgrounds to feel safe and welcome in Lake Macquarie.

IMPORTANT TERMS FOR THIS PLAN

Multiculturalism

Multiculturalism encompasses various meanings across different communities. In general terms, it signifies the harmonious incorporation and mutual appreciation of diverse cultural, religious and linguistically diverse groups that can be identified through differences in country of origin, language or culture.

Culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse

In Australia, the most common way to describe multicultural groups is Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD). This term however, is widely contested and is believed to not fully capture the richness of diverse cultural backgrounds¹. As such, this plan uses the term, 'people from culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse backgrounds' in its entirety, to acknowledge and honour the vibrant diversity of cultural identities, languages, countries of birth, national origins, heritages/ancestries, races and religions that are present throughout our city, state and nation.

Cultural safety

Cultural safety happens when using a First Nations and a trauma-informed approach to implement policies, campaigns and decisions across all areas of life and work². Cultural safety means people and communities regardless of culture, heritage, language or religious beliefs feel respected, included and protected to express their cultural identity without fear of harassment, racism, ridicule or abuse³.

Systemic racism

Systemic racism refers to the impact of societies or institution's cultural norms, laws, ideologies, policies and practices that result in inequitable treatment of members of our community⁴.

Interpersonal Racism

Interpersonal racism refers to racism that occurs in everyday interactions. This can be between individuals or groups. It can take many forms, such as abusive language, harassment, exclusion or humiliation⁵.

VISION STATEMENT

Individuals, families, friends and communities from culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse backgrounds feel welcome, supported and celebrated in Lake Macquarie.

The aim of the Multicultural Lake Mac Plan 2025-2029 is to create an environment where Lake Macquarie is seen as a safe and welcoming home for new arrivals, First Nations people and individuals of diverse ancestry, including those born in Australia.

A recurring theme that has been evident in our past multicultural initiatives and community engagement for this plan is the notion of home.

Home can mean something different for everyone. While Lake Mac feels like home to many, there remains important work to be done in order to unlock opportunities that guarantee our city is a safe and welcoming place for those coming from countries beyond Australia.

STRATEGIC LINK

The Multicultural Lake Mac Plan 2025-2029 is carefully connected with policies and planning at international, national, state and local levels. These connections help confirm and strengthen our plan's vision, allowing us to effectively work toward our goals over the next four years.

As the closest level of government to the community, Lake Macquarie City Council, alongside other councils, is keenly involved in encouraging social cohesion and seeks to collaborate with our communities and the NSW and Australian Governments to achieve this⁶.

The essential themes that resonate throughout the relevant strategies include:

- universal respect for all individuals, regardless of their cultural, religious or linguistic backgrounds
- celebration and promotion of cultural diversity
- prevention of racial discrimination
- provision of opportunities for individuals, families and communities from culturally diverse backgrounds to thrive in every aspect of life.

The plan acknowledges and aligns with the following international, national and statebased strategies and legislation.

LAKE MACQUARIE'S MULTICULTURAL STORY

Australia's cultural history began with our First Nations people who form the oldest continuous culture on the planet. For Lake Macquarie the traditional owners are the Awabakal people, who for thousands of years have cared for Country and have passed on deep cultural knowledge through language, stories, art and traditions.

Lake Macquarie is home to more than 11,700 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and more than 31,900 people born overseas. This means that more than 20% of our population represent culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse practices and ways of life. In addition to this, Lake Macquarie is also home to people with rich cultural heritage and ancestry even if born within Australia.

During the late nineteenth century to mid twentieth century, men employed in the mining industry had birth records listing home countries such as Finland, Germany, Russia, Sweden and Malta, in addition to the many British miners. Following the Gold Rush from 1852-1889, about 4,000 Chinese migrants remained in Australia and made their way to Lake Macquarie. They took part in the established fishing industry on the lake and set up Chinese Gardens in the area. Twelve Lake Macquarie suburbs are known to have had Chinese Gardens: Cockle Creek, Swansea, Wangi Wangi, Catherine Hill Bay, Dora Creek, Bolton Point, Marks Point, Arcadia Vale, Marmong Point, Nords Wharf, Teralba and Warners Bay.

Immigration has been encouraged into the region, most notably since the Second World War, with migrants setting up now established communities in Lake Macquarie. Our established migrant communities are comprised mainly of those with Anglo-Saxon backgrounds with Dutch, German, Polish and English heritage. Migrants relocated to Lake Macquarie due to industry job opportunities in coal mining and railway construction.

Nowadays, Lake Macquarie is the third most popular Local Government Area in regional NSW for migrants to settle in, and is the seventh most popular for humanitarian migration, excluding greater Sydney. The attraction of Lake Macquarie for multicultural communities lies in its proximity to Sydney, the relaxed lifestyle it offers, quality education, job opportunities and the vast natural environment. Council is experiencing a growing number of participants at our Citizenship Ceremonies and we have welcomed more than 1,800 new Australian citizens to Lake Macquarie since 2021, demonstrating our strengthening cultural diversity.

Council continues to honour inclusion and to welcome the benefits of cultural diversity to our region. This commitment to social cohesion is demonstrated in our city becoming a Refugee Welcome Zone in 2001, hosting Harmony Day events annually since 2002, joining and actively participating in the Welcoming Cities Network since 2017, re-signing the Welcome Scroll for Refugee Welcome Zones in 2018, and by regular review of our Multicultural Lake Mac Plan. We are committed to working closely with our neighbouring cities to achieve mutual genuine progress towards greater inclusion and social cohesion in Lake Macquarie City.

TACKLING RACISM IN OUR CITY

Lake Macquarie City Council acknowledges the harmful impact of systemic and interpersonal racism on individuals and communities especially those of us who represent culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse backgrounds.

Council staff attend a Multicultural NSW community consultation session in June 2025

The National Anti-Racism Framework released by the Australian Human Rights Commission in 2024 endorses a whole of society approach to eliminating racism. It articulates that racism takes many forms and that eliminating it begins with truth telling for First Nations people and embeds their right to self-determination. Recommendation 6 of the framework acknowledges that local governments require adequate funding to establish or improve local anti-racism initiatives.

The Racial Dignity Framework explores the intersection of race and dignity. The framework offers a guide to Council and key stakeholders on how to understand the experiences of exclusion for marginalised groups.

Objectives and priority actions identified in this plan contribute to eliminating racism in our city through the promotion, celebration and engagement with culturally, linguistically and religiously diverse communities across our city.

Council remains committed to seeking out opportunities and resources that enable us to increase racial literacy and cultural safety for all of community as well as working with community partners on joint initiatives.

Recent learnings from the Racial Dignity Framework aligns its focus on human dignity based on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Article 1 states that all human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights.
